An important meeting of the Barre Quarriers' and Manufacturers' association will be held in the association hall Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Matters concerning the welfare of the granite industry will be considered, and a large attendance of quarriers and manufacturers is expected.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Gale of 7 Upland avenue a very delightful party was given Friday night by girl friends in honor of Miss Dagna Haddican of Springfield, Mass. Games and music were enjoyed by 30 friends. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and wafers were served and the party broke up at a late hour.

John Hall and William Walker, arrested last evening on the East Barre road on charges of breach of peace, were released this morning on their own recognizance by Deputy Sheriff George Morris, since their cases could not be brought into municipal court owing to the absence of Judge E. L. Scott, who will be back at the bench to-morrow morning.

Mrs. C. N. Benedict, who spent the winter in Wakefield, Kan., and then went on to California for a tour, arrived in Barre Saturday night and will spend a week here visiting friends before going to Brookline, Mass., to be with her cousin. In California Mrs. Benedict visited in Los Angeles, Whittier, Venice, Fresno and other places and saw many Barre people who are now residing in that state.

Yesterday afternoon 12 cars bearing the equipment and troupe of 65 people connected with the Follies Burlesque Show arrived at the Central Vermont station. Work was immediately started to put into shape the numerous tents and other articles used to stage the daily performances which begin this evening.

It was necessary to transport it to the Berlin street grounds by large two-horse teams and until late last night the workmen were making trips to the grounds. The state license papers arrived at the city clerk's office this morning, so that everything was in readiness by late afternoon. These shows have for the past week been playing in Burlington.

It is expected that around 30 granite manufacturers and quarriers in the Barre district will leave the city Saturday for Columbus, O., to attend the national convention of granite monument producers and retail monument dealers. The attendance from the Barre district will also include Montpelier, Northfield and Waterbury manufacturers. Representatives of the granite industries of Hardwick and Ryegate also plan to make the trip with the Barre delegation. A combination sleeper and day coach was used to make the trip two years ago, will be attached to the outgoing train from Barre at 8:10 a. m. for the accommodation of the tourists.

Painters, Attention.

Local 185, painters and decorators, will hold a special meeting in carpenters' hall on Tuesday, Aug. 5, at 8 p. m. All members are requested to attend. Important business.

MONTPELIER

Dr. C. H. Burr, district health officer, organized the boards of health in Chelsea and Vershire Saturday evening, and then passed Sunday at his home in Thetford.

Lieut. W. Trevers Teachout, who has been in France for two years and is an officer in the 47th infantry, arrived Sunday evening for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Teachout, his parents. He was in some of the worst fighting of the war.

R. G. Reynolds, who recently returned from France, where he has been in Y. M. C. A. work, is now looking after the work in three districts of the state educational system until superintendents are selected. He was in the city to-day.

Leon Beach, who was in charge of the industrial vocation work in Vermont and is now in similar work with headquarters in Washington, D. C., is here to pack and ship his goods to Washington.

John S. Bledsoe, commissioner of industries, will go to St. Johnsbury Tuesday to conduct a hearing relative to workmen's compensation in the case of Burt Martell vs. Roy Brothers and Fulford.

Miss Eunice McKenzie has returned from a visit in Canada and resumed her work in the state highway office.

For a few days it has been rumored that Charles W. Scott, who has been deputy commissioner of weights and measures, had resigned and that he was going into the insurance business. An effort this morning to locate Mr. Scott about the State House failed. It is understood that Mr. Davis, one of the inspectors, is a logical successor to Mr. Scott when the resignation becomes effective.

George A. Reed of the state engineer's office is in Marlboro starting the work on the federal aid project which was recently contracted to Pascal Ricci of Rutland.

The will of J. W. Butterfield, late of Cabot, was proven in probate court this morning. Edwin M. Simpson of Northfield settled his account as administrator de bonis non with will annexed of the estate of Loren J. Wiley, late of that town. The estate has been running since 1910. The will of Esther Ainsworth, late of Middlesex, was presented for probate this morning.

J. G. Brown, insurance commissioner, is in New York attending a meeting of the national insurance commissioners.

Mr. and Mrs. Hector Caron, two sons and two daughters of Montreal, stopped at the Pavilion Sunday night. Mr. Caron is commissioner of fish and game for the Province of Quebec and called upon L. C. Moody, L. H. Bixby and Dr. M. F. McGuire, among others, who are members of the St. Bernard club.

News has been received here of the death of Rev. L. J. Bamburg, who was several years pastor of the Baptist church in Montpelier, having been followed by Rev. Ivan Benedict. He was 62 years of age and died in Winsted, Conn., where he had been pastor for a short time of the First Baptist church. He was also pastor at Holyoke, Mass., and Lakeport, N. H., for a time. He is survived by his wife.

L. H. Greene has returned from a trip to Washington, where he met his brother.

Amie Menard, who has been in France for almost two years, has returned to this country and is expected home shortly.

W. H. Jeffrey, state secretary of the board of charities and probate, has appointed Miss Anna R. McMahon of Montpelier as a field worker in the organization and she began her duties this morning. Hers is a new field, namely that of looking after the children who are committed to the board of charities and probate to see that they are getting the care that they are supposed to get.

Miss McMahon comes well fitted for the work. She is a graduate of St. Elizabeth's hospital in Brighton, Mass., and took a post-graduate course at Corry Hill hospital. Since that time she has been practicing her profession and was for a time the operating room supervisor of Memorial hospital in Brattleboro.

Dr. C. H. Burr, district health officer, has received some recommendations from the physicians of the state board of health, who recently made the examination and survey of Montpelier's water supply and the source from which it comes. As the members of the city council have expressed themselves, the physicians believe that picknick at the reservoir shall be stopped and that a fence of sufficient height to prevent access to the water should be constructed.

The boating and fishing on Berlin pond should be stopped because it endangers the purity of the water. A typhoid fever carrier would spread an epidemic in Montpelier. They have other recommendations that will probably be discussed at the state board meeting next Wednesday. He finds that some of the families are not calling a physician relative to whether or not the law prescribes, in order that the children may be discharged from quarantine. There is one case of pneumonia in Bradford and one of typhoid fever in Cabot.

Supt. E. A. Witham has been working his men on Cliff street in Montpelier, on which street no work of any degree of completeness has been done in three years and the street was in such a condition that teams going over it were complaining. He also filled up the washed portion of Hillside avenue, which has been in bad shape for two years and put in some gutters to carry away the water. This week his gang of men commenced resurfacing lower State street. Although the council recently decided to do some permanent work near the cemetery on the same street, no lines have as yet been run, so nothing can be done until that is decided. This street was recently oiled and a new sidewalk has been laid, so that it is tearing up one of the best streets in the city at the present time if the permanent work is done there.

EAST BARRE

Through an oversight the name of Mrs. Ella Smith of Montpelier was omitted from this account of the 25th anniversary of the East Barre Congregational church. Mrs. Smith was a member of the first choir that sang in the church 25 years ago and came to East Barre especially on this occasion to sing at the anniversary. Mrs. Smith has been an interested observer of the church's progress since its beginning.

Hobbled.

D. B. reports having overheard this bit of conversation on the street: "Dearie, do you think it would be fun if you had both your limbs inside one trouser leg and you were trying to walk?"

"Certainly not!" "Well, please wait for me; I can't keep up with you with this skirt on."—Boston Transcript.

The Small Boy Dotes on Beacon Shows.

There are more ways of getting into a circus or carnival than Mr. Heinz has varieties of pickles. For every boy has his own method of trying to gain free admission. There is also the small boy who will have his ma, pa, or sister see that he sees the real carnival shows and rides, the merry-go-round and ferris wheels to his heart's content. But the youngster who got the most enjoyment out of the Beacon Shows were the ones who were there to see it unload from the cars yesterday. They were all there, Jimmy Fadden, Spikes Lewis, Neuse Jover, Ike Weinstein, Feathers Flanagan, and Feathers knows the game as he has carried water for all the elephants that have circused Barre for six years. "Say, fellows," Feathers told the bunch, "this Beacon Show is a live one. See the ponies and the trick mule. You bet I can out five bones for riding him around the ring. Get next to Prof. and Madam Greco and their 20 leaping dogs. Aren't they swell? See her with the swell togs on? That's Mlle. Amy, the snake charmer. No she don't eat 'em alive. She charms them. There's Mr. Valares! He's the real guy wid the show. He has the big 10 in 1. You're a hick, Lou don't know what the 10 in 1 is? Why it's ten shows in one and you see them all for do one price. That gent with him—why dat's Matt Gay, the greatest high diver in de world. He dives 102 feet from a high ladder every afternoon and night. Get hurt? No, you loob, he gets wet when he lands in the tank." This is the conversation overheard by The Times reporter when the carnival unloaded from the Central Vermont track yesterday.

This attraction plays here the entire week on the Berlin street grounds, coming direct from Burlington, where it has done the largest week's business of an attraction of its nature that ever played that city, which speaks well for the organization.—adv.

TO-DAY

Here is another Cecil B. DeMille production. Remember GLORIA SWANSON AND ELLIOTT DEXTER IN "FOR BETTER, FOR WORSE"

"We Can't Have Everything," and "Don't Change Your Husband?" This one is better than either of those two. You're laughing, you're crying, then you're all sympathy, then hate, and then—well, we just can't tell you. It's oh, so good! Also a Pathe news picture.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 5—SHIRLEY MASON IN "THE FINAL CLOSE-UP"

Quite an appropriate title for a motion picture production. What think you? What is the final close-up? What would a picture be without it? Shirley Mason tells you in this picture and tells you in a manner that is sure to convince. All you have to do is watch her. Also a Voca-Vil showing five of the latest vaudeville hits, and a new picture.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 6—FANNIE WARD IN "THE CRY OF THE WEAK"

A motion picture that is unusually good. Some of the very best screen acting in some time is done by Fannie Ward and a very capable and well-selected supporting cast. For an hour of good entertainment, few pictures can compare with it. Also a Kingman news and a Mutt & Jeff cartoon comedy. A better play than "Common Clay."
